Hail to thee . . . dear

Vaiden Whitley.

We salute thee:

Created in the minds of men of courageous foresight, envisioned as a center of learning committed to the many facets of education, Vaiden Whitley, unsteeped in tradition and poor in heritage, embarked four years ago upon her course of spreading a "shining light of knowledge and integrity." Weathering the growing pangs of youth, verging to take in a fourth, she has resolutely pursued her chartered course, providing multitudinous opportunities for aspiring young people to work, to play, to achieve, to excel.

ALMA MATER

Handwritten musical score for 'ALMA MATER' in G major and 4/4 time. The score is written on a large sheet of paper with a large handwritten '9' in the top left corner. It consists of eight systems of music, each with a vocal line (treble clef) and a piano accompaniment line (bass clef). The lyrics are as follows:

HAIL TO THEE OUR AL-MA MA-TER, LO-YAL WE SHALL BE.
HAIL TO THEE DEAR VAI-DEN WHIT-LEY, WE SA-LUTE THEE.
POR-TIONS OF YOUR GAL-LANT EF-FORTS, WE SHALL E-VER BE

Advisory Board Chairman, Mr. J. T. Knott, Jr., presents long-awaited diplomas to happy yet tearful graduates.

The Class of 1968 assumes a dignified pose for final photograph.

On Sunday afternoon, May 26, 1968, Dr. Albert G. Edwards, pastor of Raleigh's First Presbyterian Church, delivered the Baccalaureate Sermon to the 1968 Graduating Class. Preceding the message, the Vocal Ensemble sang "I'll Walk With God" and "The Halls of Ivy."

The Honorable Robert B. Morgan, North Carolina State Senator, spoke to the Seniors at their Graduation Exercises on Friday evening, May 31. Special music was rendered by the Whitley Chorus under the direction of Mr. Charles Burt. After presentation of the Senior Class by Mr. Stanley Dail, Mr. J.T. Knott, Jr., Advisory Council Chairman, presented diplomas to the graduates.

Dr. Albert G. Edwards inquires, "Are you unsatisfied, satisfied or dissatisfied?"

The Honorable Robert Morgan urges Seniors to reach beyond as they accept life's challenges.

Prom setting is Shangri-La.

Seniors, Juniors, and their guests treaded a bamboo-lined path to enter a candle-lit oriental world on Saturday evening, April 27, 1968. Brightly colored flowers, spreading fans, wild-eyed dragons, and Eastern scenes converted the student lounge and cafeteria into another world. On the school patio a fountain spilled into a rock encircled pool. Couples danced, chatted, and sipped sake as the music of the Atlantic Coast Show and Dance Band wafted through the air. It was Shangri-La.

Prom waiters and waitresses pause at refreshment table for souvenir photo.

The smiles of Barbara O'Neal and date symbolize the gay spirit of the Prom.

Senior Week: Rank has privileges.

Enjoying the special privilege of wearing chosen apparel, one Senior strolls the halls of Whitley in borrowed square dance costume.

Senior Week, a time for fun and jest, was sponsored by the Student Council. Throughout the week senior tyrants directed freshman slaves who were purchased at a public auction in the gym. Obeying the commands of their owners, the slaves carried books, polished shoes, ran errands, and performed many unique tasks. Wearing a particular type of apparel on each day of the week was another special privilege enjoyed by Seniors. This week continued to be a highlight of spring at Whitley.

Marching Warriors enliven Homecoming half-time activities spark excitement.

On October 25, 1968, Alumni returned to the Vaiden Whitley campus to join in her third Homecoming celebration. Though spirits were dampened by the football team's one-touchdown loss to Smithfield, the half-time activities delighted and intrigued spectators. The Marching Warriors rendered Tiajuana Brass selections; the Majorettes twirled flaming batons; and the Homecoming Court circled the field in shiny convertibles. Following this presentation Pam Williams was crowned Miss Vaiden Whitley of 1968. The new Queen retired from the field on the senior float, which was adorned with hundreds of blue and white paper flowers. A pleasant evening terminated with alumni and students dancing to the music of The Illusions.

Funds help purchase additional bus.

Selling became fun as students, homerooms, and classes competed for the purpose of raising the funds needed for purchasing a new activity bus. Soliciting magazine subscriptions initiated the drive which netted approximately three thousand five hundred dollars. Fifteen hundred dollars of this amount was realized from a second project, the sale of chocolate. At the close of these campaigns, high salesmen were awarded valuable prizes.

Students under the able direction of Mr. Murphy also assisted with the operation of a concession stand at home ballgames. Profits earned from this operation were used to help defray increasing athletic expenses.

Mr. Murphy seans impatient concession stand customers.

Senior Harry Hartman, high chocolate salesman, totals candy sales.

Freshman Rose Benton, high magazine salesman, completes one more subscription form.

Drivers, Glenn Medlin and Mike Honeycutt, stand by Whitley's two gleaming blue and white activity buses.

Books in hand, students stride from trailer to trailer.

Mobile units accommodate increased enrollment.

Mrs. Leathers projects phrases for students who are working diligently to increase their reading speed.

To accommodate a growing student body, it became necessary to supplement the new five-classroom wing constructed last year with the addition of five mobile units. In these trailers all social studies classes were conducted; and in a sixth, a remedial reading program operated.

Variety spices student life.

Student life at Whitley was not all work and no play. Though study filled many hours of each day, there was often time between classes for a cheerful greeting to a special friend. Lunchtime, too, provided an opportunity for fellowship at the table or friendly banter while waiting in line.

During football and basketball seasons, some days ended with students gathering in the gym or at the football field to spur the athletic teams to victory. One fall day was most outstanding, because preparations were made for parents to come in the evening to see the school and to meet the teachers.

Mr. J. T. Knott, Chairman; Mr. Marsh W. Knott; Mr. F. O. Debnam.

Mr. Aaron Fussell
Superintendent of Wake County Schools

Coordinating the many functions of a school as large as Whitley was a difficult job. Guiding students, conferring with teachers, planning curriculum, and supervising the various school activities were tasks expertly executed by the Administration with Mr. Dail at the helm. His vast concern for the intellectual growth and full development of each student earned for him the respect and esteem of the student body.

The Advisory Council and the Superintendent also worked to give the students of Vaiden Whitley an opportunity to mold their talents and abilities. They helped provide an environment which contributed to learning and to developing the total self.

Because of the combined efforts of the Administrative Staff, Whitley attained one of its prime objectives—accreditation by the North Carolina Department of Public Instruction.

to providing guidance,

The Guidance Department directed the student in establishing and realizing his goals by providing the following basic services: pupil consultation, individual inventory, informational services, placement and referrals.

Keeping innumerable records, preparing daily bulletins, and assisting students and faculty were only a few of the ways the school secretary contributed to the smooth operation of the school.

The school library created an atmosphere conducive to pleasurable reading and to learning. Maintaining this atmosphere was the task of the school librarian.

A working knowledge of past events for students was the prime concern of the Social Studies Department. The department sought to captivate the minds of its students by bringing alive the pageantry of the past.

Offering a guide to the parallel study of grammar and literature, the English Department encouraged students to express and interpret their ideas. By probing their inner thoughts, the students gained a greater understanding of themselves and of differing cultures.

To acquaint its students with the customs, problems, and cultural aspects of other peoples, the Foreign Language Department sought to involve them in the skills of listening, speaking, reading, and writing; and in an appreciation of their literature.

to developing techniques,

The Vocational Department endeavored to provide a varied program which would develop skills useful to the student in his chosen career as well as in homemaking and community participation.

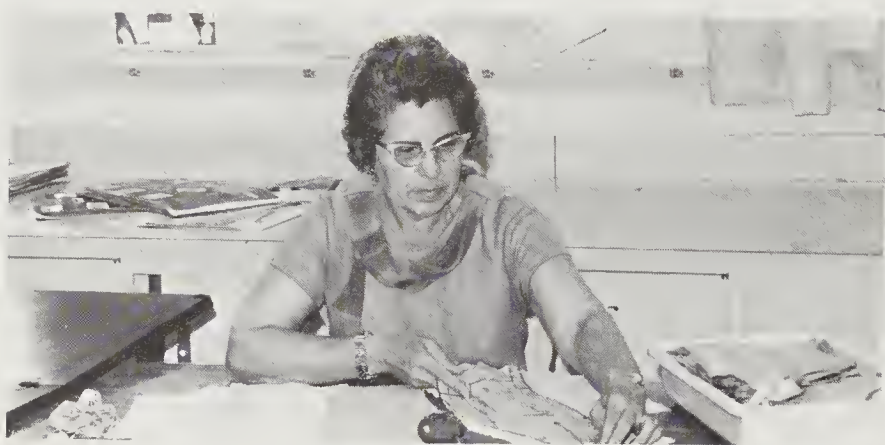

For the first time girls enrolled in an agricultural course, horticulture. In addition, a new course, Electricity and Electronics, enhanced the vocational training program.

Many opportunities for performance were afforded by the band and chorus programs. Students gained a knowledge of musical history as they molded their special talents. It was necessary to have two classes for choral training, because of increased interest in this phase of the musical program.

To improve reading skills, a program using modern developmental reading media was inaugurated for the slow reader.

CAFETERIA STAFF

Fonza Cox, Debra Whitley, Mary Holland, Zenora Whitley, Corene Brewington.

Typing, mimeographing, and grading—services rendered by the Teachers' Aides—were a few of their contributions which enabled the teacher to execute classroom duties more effectively.

Believing that learning should be meaningful, the Mathematics Department encouraged understanding of basic mathematical principles accompanied by their application in different situations.

The increased enrollment this year necessitated the addition of a third lunch shift. However, the Cafeteria Staff continued to provide good lunches as well as attractive floral arrangements.

The Maintenance Staff worked diligently and efficiently to keep the buildings and grounds neat and attractive.

Organizations

Constantly are we reminded of your dignity,

The Shield Staff
essays to compile
"best book ever."

Accepting the traditional challenge of portraying another year of life at Vaiden Whitley, the Yearbook Staff endeavored to produce the "best book ever." It coordinated copy, layout, and pictures to depict major events, athletic contests, and daily activities of students and faculty. To record more completely the happenings of the year, headlines replaced titles and a Student Life section was added. Always the prime objective was excellence as it worked to compile the 1969 edition of The Shield.

Sponsor Mrs. Perry confers with Yearbook Editor Rose Jones on proper placement of pictures as Staff Photographer David Hendricks and Co-Business Managers James Strickland and Frances Henderson approve.

Assisted by Advisors Mrs. Gooden and Mrs. Crutcher, Betsy Dark, Jan Whitley, and Pat Croom search for the most revealing terms to express picture action.

Surrounded by Staff members Will Perry, Pam Faison, Susan Thomas, and Larry Liles; Assistant Editor Ronnie Conoley carefully checks layout details.

OFFICERS AND SPONSORS: President, Mike Watson; Secretary, Jan Whitley; Vice-President, Bill Britt; Sponsor, Mrs. Heath; Sponsor, Miss Baldwin; Treasurer, Ronnie Conoley.

The Beta Club, a service and leadership organization, engaged in several projects this year. Outstanding among these was the presentation of a trophy case to the school. In addition, the club gave a North Carolina Flag and an American Flag. At Christmas it assisted the County organization in sponsoring two foster children. To provide funds for these contributions, members participated in a Christmas Card Sale. Also, Betas were responsible for raising the flag daily, ushering at school functions, marshalling at commencement, and giving daily morning devotions.

Ronnie Conoley delivers an inspirational devotion—a first initiated by Betas.

Composed of representatives from each homeroom, the Student Council functioned as an organ of communication between students and faculty and staff. During the year, it was involved in several worth-while projects. Among these were preparing materials for bulletin boards, sponsoring election of Homecoming Court, entertaining the faculty and staff at a Christmas tea, promoting a faculty-alumni basketball game, and planning Senior Week activities. However, its most rewarding project was assisting the local Garden Clubs in landscaping the front campus.

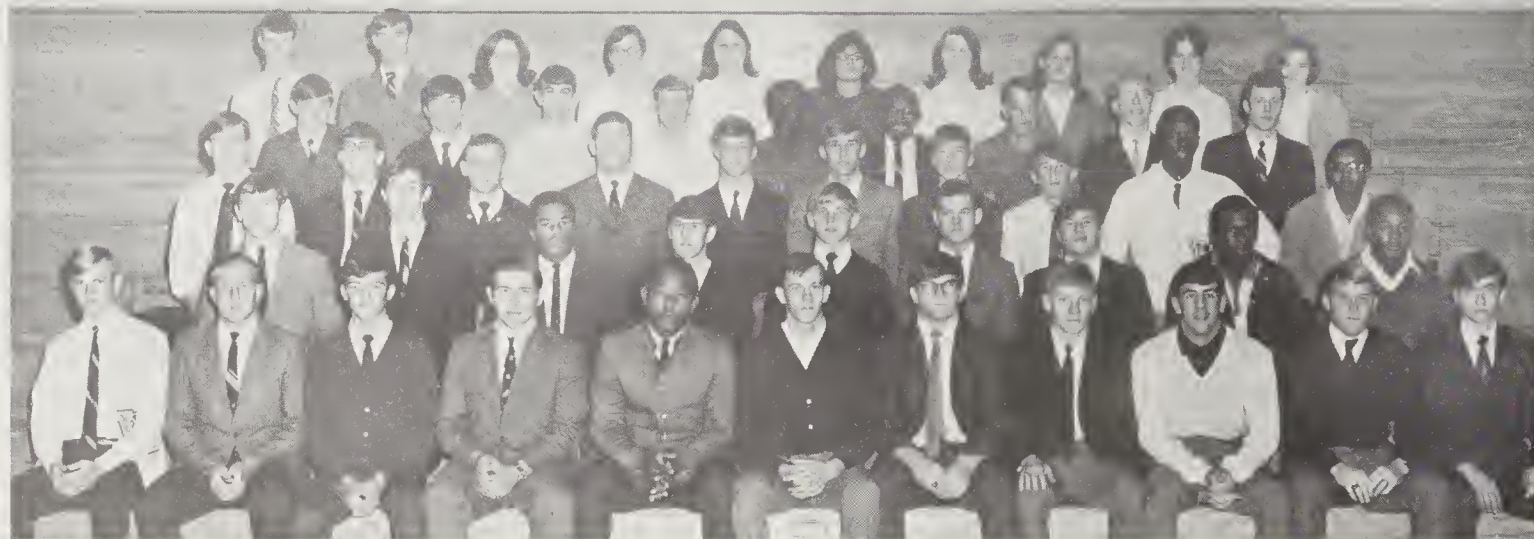

Council members enjoyed participating in county, district, and state meetings.

*Monogram Club
promotes unity,
school spirit.*

The Monogram Club was composed of outstanding student athletes representing all phases of the sports' program. Its primary objectives were to promote school spirit and to encourage unity. Highlighting its year was the Homecoming Dance sponsored during the football season.

Through the use of filmstrips and lectures at the monthly meetings, the club provided interesting and informative programs for its members.

Endeavoring to acquire a broader knowledge of our Spanish-speaking neighbors and their language was the major objective of the Spanish Club. In the fall the members traveled to Greensboro to attend the production, "Esta Noche Teatro," which was performed entirely in Spanish. Speaking at one of the meetings, Roberto Matis of Bucaramanza, Colombia, informed the club of customs and government in his country. At another meeting Tippy's Taco House provided true Spanish refreshments which were served in Spanish style. In the future the club proposes to organize an exchange program with a Latin American country in order to gain greater understanding of Spanish-speaking peoples.

A fashion show, guest speakers, films, and panel discussions aided the Future Homemakers of America in realizing their goals: the promotion of interest in home economics and the development of traits essential in homemaking and community participation. The club rendered invaluable assistance to the school and to community organizations by serving and decorating for dinners and banquets. Collecting scraps of fabrics to be used by County Home residents in making quilts and sending cards to senior citizens and shut-ins were two of the club's most enjoyable and satisfying activities.

Girls invade Future Farmers of America ranks.

Seeking to develop strong leaders and good citizens prompted the F.F.A. to engage in a variety of activities. Among these was participation in the different Federation contests in which members represented the local chapter well. The Tool Identification Team placed first in its contest. Again members supplied and supervised exhibits in the Children's Barnyard at the North Carolina State Fair and attended Summer Camp. Hunting safety was discussed by a member of the Wildlife Department, and a local minister delivered an inspirational message to the group at its regular meetings. Funds from a successful "Aggies" sale were used to finance the annual Father Son Banquet.

The Whitley Chapter entered a new era as girls invaded its ranks for the first time.

In order to achieve its goal, encouraging use of talents and performance with self-confidence before an audience, the Dramatics Club divided its membership into groups that wrote, directed, and presented skits, one-act plays or pantomines at its monthly meetings. "First" labels achieved goals.

Becoming a member of the national organization for science clubs, Future Scientists of America, was a coveted milestone attained by the Science Club this year. Another first for the club was the sponsoring of a Science Emphasis Night to which the public was invited to view projects done by club members and interested science students. Interest in various fields of science was further cultivated through discussions at regular meetings.

Computer age marks Math Club programs.

SENIOR MATH CLUB OFFICERS AND SPONSOR: President, Joe Knott; Secretary, Jan Whitley; Sponsor, Mr. Murphy; Vice-President, Wayne Harper.

The Junior and Senior Math Clubs have aspired to greater proficiency in advanced fields and to a more profound understanding of the role of math in today's computer age. Topics to promote these objectives such as the Mobius Strip and Topology, Conic Sections in Structural Design, Quadratic Relations and Chemistry, Trigonometry in Optics, and Progressions and the Laws of Harmony were explored—the end result being an increased respect for logical reasoning.

Education lures Future Teachers.

The Future Teachers of America was primarily concerned with inspiring and interesting students in becoming competent and effective teachers. Short skits and plays depicting the role of a teacher, films portraying characteristics of the teaching profession, and guest speakers constituted the club's programs of the year. During National Education Week, a tea honoring faculty and staff was given. An "apple for the teacher" emblem was presented to each faculty member during Teacher Appreciation Week.

Whitley Bands revel in unmatched elegance.

Under the capable direction of Mr. Charles Burt, the Marching Warriors represented Whitley well on many occasions. They provided half-time shows at football games and marched in several parades. Among these were the Wendell Harvest Parade, North Carolina State Homecoming Parade, Strawberry Festival Parade, and Christmas parades in Wake Forest and Zebulon. Two of the most meaningful appearances to band members were their performing on the University of North Carolina Band Day and in the Inaugural Parade for Governor Scott. In April the group participated in the Regional Band Contest. Last year the band received a superior rating.

The Concert Band joined with the Chorus and Ensemble to produce musical programs at Christmas and in the spring. The Christmas Concert was presented to both the public and the Whitley student body. Performing for Graduation climaxed the year's programs.

Increased interest swelled the Whitley Chorus ranks from seventy-nine to one hundred twenty-three. Its performances were many. During the pre-Christmas season, it became a touring choir, singing at Wendell, Carver, Knightdale, and Rolesville schools. Also it united with the Band to provide a Christmas Concert for the local students. Participation in community holiday programs was an enjoyable function of the group. The Chorus led a Community Sing to welcome Santa Claus to Wendell and sang on the North Hills Mall for holiday shoppers.

In the spring they entered the District Contest in Durham, hoping to match last year's rating of excellent; and selected members joined with students from schools over the state to form a 500-member All-State Chorus. The year's activities terminated with the production of the Band-Chorus Concert and the performance in Graduation Exercises.

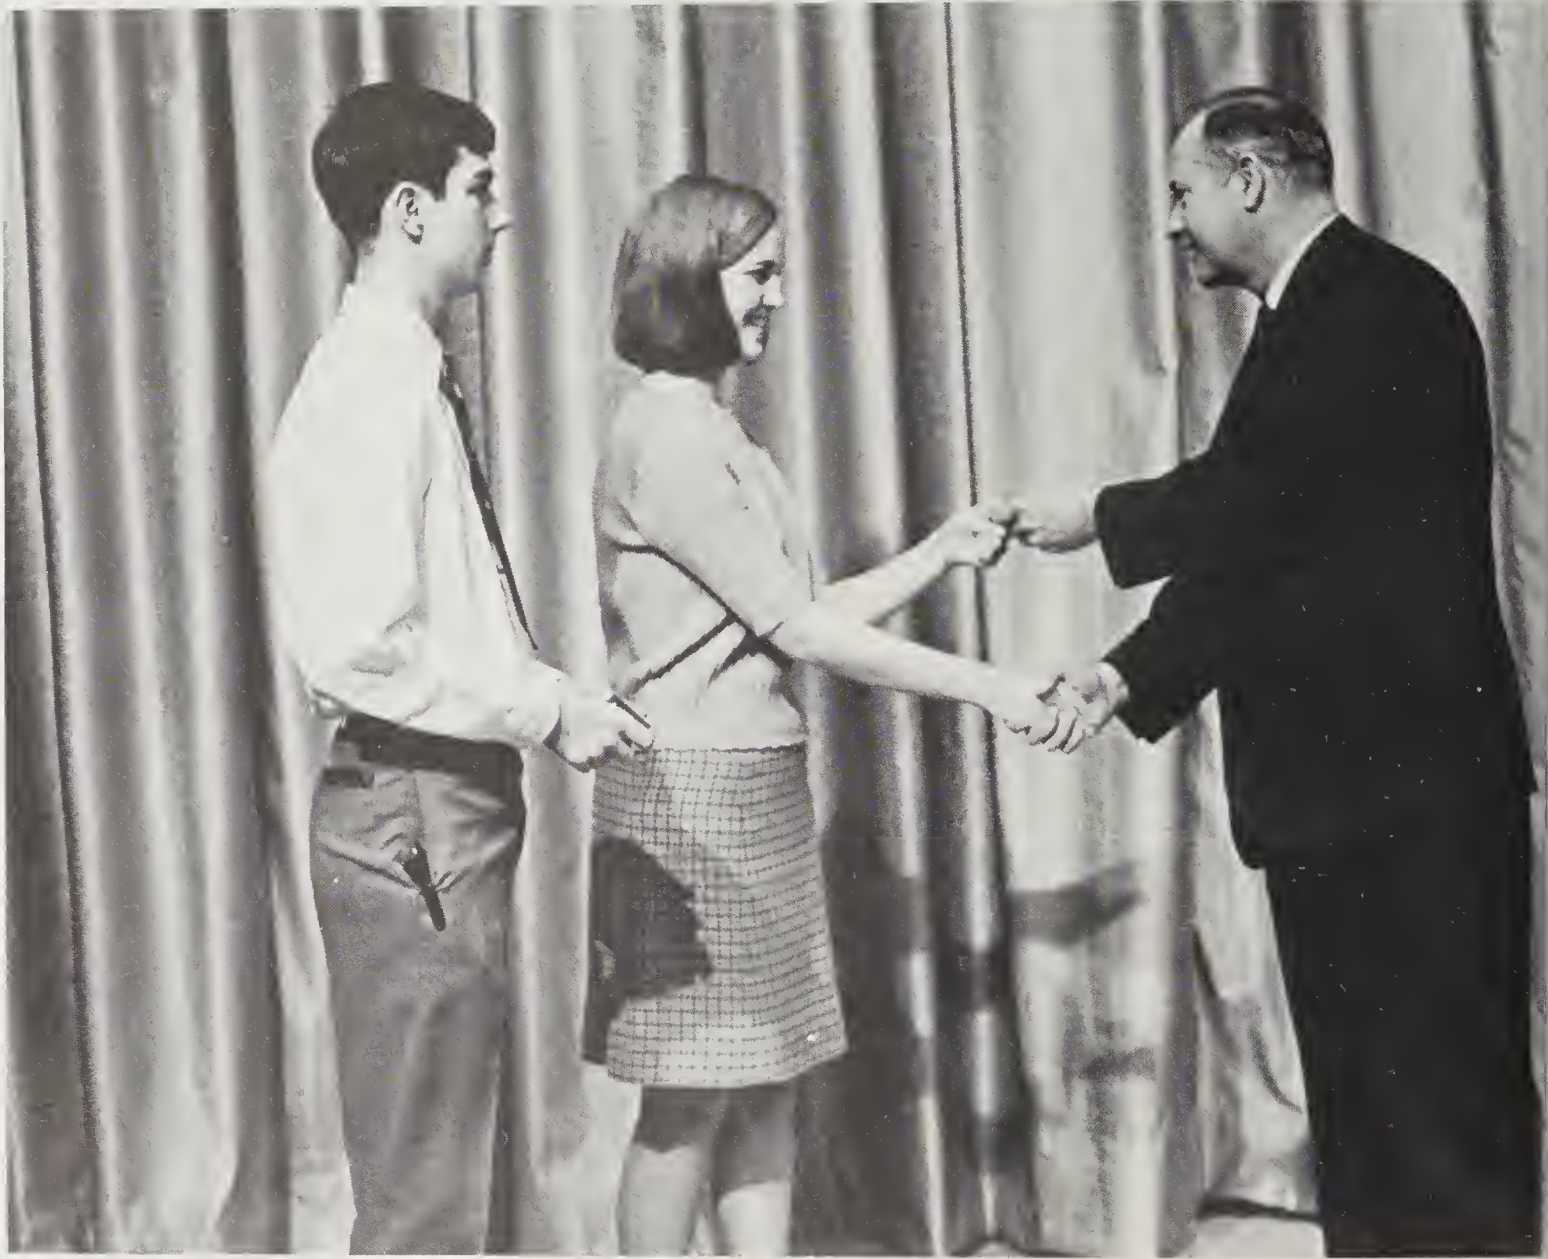

The sixteen students composing the Ensemble performed for a variety of groups. These included the Wendell Rotary Club, Lockhart School, and Polk Youth Center. Their singing highlighted the Christmas and Spring Musical Concerts. In February they participated in the Solo and Ensemble Contest at which last year's group received a Superior rating. The final presentation of the year was the rendition of "I'll Walk with God" and "The Halls of Ivy" at the Baccalaureate Sermon.

Faculty names nine outstanding Seniors.

William Robert Horton

As a member of the Future Farmers of America, Robert made his greatest contribution to his school. During his four years in the club he served as sentinel, vice-president, and president and earned many awards. Among these were Star Greenhand, Star Chapter Farmer, State Farmer Degree, County Federation Supervised Practice Program Award, and the privilege of participating in the State Soil and Water Conservation Workshop. In addition to these activities Robert was vice-president of the Junior Class, parliamentarian of the Student Council, and a letterman in football and baseball. He looks forward to enrolling at North Carolina State University in the fall.

William Alfred Britt, Jr.

Bill's most outstanding service was rendered in his capacity as president and vice-president of the Beta Club, as well as representative to the State Convention in 1968. This year has been his busiest. He served as captain of the Christmas Card Sale, chairman of the Executive Committee of the Beta Club, and chairman of House and Grounds Committee of the Student Council. Lettering in football for three years resulted in membership in the Monogram Club. Upon graduation Bill will enter a liberal arts college to major in political science.

Mary Jan Whitley

Assisting the librarian for two years, Jan demonstrated her willingness to serve her school. She was also active in the Beta Club as secretary, in the Future Teachers of America as vice-president, and in the Math Club as secretary. Her outstanding qualities of citizenship merited the DAR award for 1968-69. Jan further contributed by marshalling in the Commencement Exercises her Junior year. After graduation she proposes to study English at Atlantic Christian College.

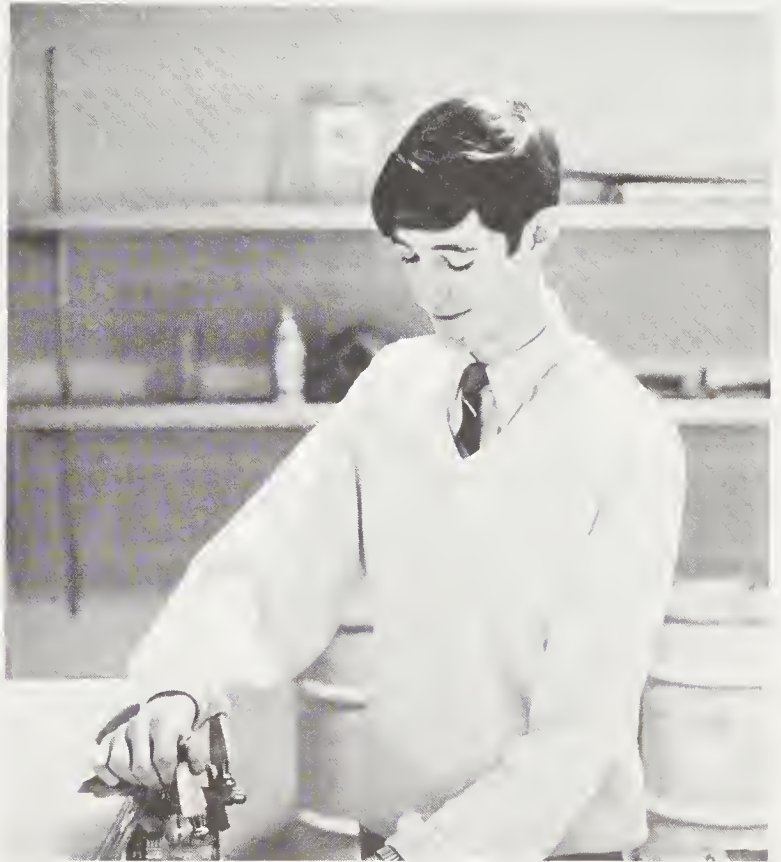

Landon Eddy Wilder

Landon has served his school in several capacities as both class and club officers: president of Freshman Class, treasurer of Junior Class, president of VICA, and reporter of Dramatics Club. Also his performances as drum major were sparkling. However, Landon's membership in the Student Council has afforded him his most outstanding opportunities for service. After serving as representative for two years and attending the Student Council Congress Workshop in Mars Hill and the Student Council Convention in Jacksonville, he has culminated his work this year as president. Upon graduation Landon plans to pursue the vocation of law and politics by majoring in economics at North Carolina State University.

Joe Thomas Knott, III

As president of the Math Club, vice-president of the Science Club, vice-president of the Chorus, and member of both the Vocal Ensemble and Beta Club, Joe's services have been outstanding. This year, much of his spare time found him acting as cashier in the concession stand and cafeteria. In the area of athletics he participated in both football and basketball. A special honor was his selection to represent North Carolina at a summer session at the Coast Guard Academy. Next year will find Joe entering business administration at the University of North Carolina.

Brenda Marie Latham

Brenda was indeed an asset to the Music Department. Participating as a Marching Warrior, she played the bell lyre for two years. Her activities also included membership in the Future Homemakers, the Dramatics Club, the Future Teachers, and the Beta Club. Elected to serve as treasurer of the Senior Class, she displayed her leadership potential. Brenda anticipates a major in journalism or sociology at A and T University.

Exceptional traits characterize selected Seniors.

Ronald Patterson Conoley

With much pride Ronnie has assumed many responsibilities throughout high school. He served as divers club officers: president of the Science Club and treasurer of the Beta, Debate, and Science Clubs. Also, the Magazine and Chocolate Sales, as well as the concession stands, have profited from his diligent work. A constant winner, Ronnie was chosen to exhibit his projects at District Science Fairs. His speaking ability prompted his selection to attend the Debating School at Chapel Hill in 1967. This year he has spent long hours as assistant editor of The Shield. Ronnie's future aspirations are in the field of medicine.

James Roderick Strickland, II

Throughout high school James has rendered service to his school as Athletic Trainer, a responsibility which merited his being selected to represent Whitley at the Student Trainer's Clinic in Greensboro in the summer of 1968. His leadership ability was realized in his services as vice-president of the Student Council, president of Mixed Chorus, and active member of the Vocal Ensemble. Upon graduation, James plans to enter the School of Engineering at North Carolina State University.

Rose Marie Jones

Rose has given many hours of service to her school. She served as secretary of the Future Teachers, worked eagerly in the guidance office, as well as in the Beta Club and Future Business Leaders. Her active participation in the Music Department afforded her the honor of being a majorette for three years and representative in the All-County Band for two years. This year Rose topped her activities by serving as editor of The Shield. Upon graduation she plans to enter East Carolina University to study business education.

The 1968 Warriors burst forth this year with vehement fury to take their rightful place as No. 1 in the CAC and Conference Tournament. Twelve dedicated boys, both competent lettermen and eager newcomers, proved their worth throughout their undefeated season by unselfishly passing-off the ball. Assisted by Manager Perry Laymon, Statistician Tommy Liborio, and Scorekeeper Brian Potter, the team under the capable guidance of Coach Faulk weathered district and state competition. This team truly exemplified its motto: "Hard work and determination will eventually mean success."

Dynamic Cheerleaders rally Whitley supporters and boost team morale.

Creating a "great sensation," seven energetic varsity cheerleaders roused the fans to spirited yells and spurred the teams on to victory. The lively new look from cheerleading camp prevailed as the squad artfully executed new cheers, double stunts, chants, and pom pom routines. They added zest to loyalty not only by cheering at games, but also by decorating goal posts, selling Homecoming corsages, and distributing spirit tags on game days.

The J. V. cheerleaders under the direction of head cheerleader, Connie Nowell, assumed the responsibility of cheering the J. V. teams into action. Giving endless hours to learning new cheers, to practicing intricate routines, and to devising ways of promoting school spirit, they promised to be the enthusiastic varsity squad of tomorrow.

*Hail to thee
dear Alma Mater.*

Fashioning abilities and instilling ambitions, Vaiden Whitley will continue to serve as a touchstone for unfolding meaningful and useful lives. As portions of her "gallant efforts," these lives, imbued with a deep sense of loyalty, will ever strive to bring her "honor through eternity."

5/25/68

Sweetheart,

This has been one year that I shall never forget as long as I live. It all started on June 27, 1968. You asked me to go steady. I guess neither of us will forget that night. Since then you have been my whole life - the center of all my activities. You have stayed with me through "thick and thin" and I love you for it. No one will ever know how much you mean to me.

Yes, we have had some good times, including beach trips, parties, dates!!! etc. We enjoyed them all. There will be memories that will linger on forever.

Remember our birthday? Wasn't it great. For that was great, but when that boy almost got his head cut off, I was ready to go. I was thrilled to death over my phone. It was the nicest birthday gift I had ever received.

Now it's the time of the year when all seniors are excited about leaving whilley, and everybody else is excited about school letting out for the summer. Usually I'm happy too, but it just so happens that you will be leaving high school, and you'll also be leaving "me" behind. The closer June 2 comes, the sadder I become. I can't bear the thought of not being able to see you at school next year. What have I done? But like you have said before, "you're a big girl now. You can take it."

Well, right now I'm not so sure about that. These four years of high school have just passed by too fast. I do not feel like a senior at all! I guess I just can't face reality. Now you have to go that big world by yourself after your training. I hope I'll still be around to be part of that big world. I do need you. I'll do everything I can to keep you and make you "happy."

We do have the summer coming up, and I know we'll have the greatest time since especially at the beach. I don't see how anybody could help you having a good time there. I promise you that this year I will not let you get sun-burned.

Baldie

Best wishes to a very sweet boy. I have really enjoyed being in your English class & working with you in class. Best wishes
many happy returns!

Baldie,
It has been great knowing you this year. We have had a ball in English class. I wish you the best of luck in the future. I hope this summer you stay out of trouble, don't do anything I wouldn't do and watch the girls.

Will Baldie,

It's about over and more too soon. English IV is soon gonna be a thing of the past. Now everybody is looking to the future and hoping for better things. Hope that you get all of those better things. Good luck

Mike Watson
